

Mrs. Traneda Jones

Traneda Jones was born and raised in Rocky Mount, NC. After much back-and-forth contemplation on what her career choice would be, she ultimately decided to obtain a Bachelors of Science Degree in Nursing from The University of North Carolina at Charlotte. Jones worked as an Orthopedic Medical/Surgical Nurse for 5 years before deciding to further her education and pursue a Master of Science in Nursing from East Carolina University. Jones ultimately completed her Masters in Nursing degree with a concentration in Family Nurse Practitioning and developed a desire to learn more about care for the more complex and critical patients. Currently Jones is thriving as a Critical Care Nurse Practitioner in the Emergency Department in Wake County, NC. Jones is an appointed healthcare advisor for The National Engineering League ® where she hopes to help, lead, and counsel future healthcare leaders who desire to obtain similar careers in medicine and critical patient care.
