

Mr. Rocky Moon

Mr. Rocky Moon is a designer and creator with a passion for education with over a decade of experience in college access. Moon hopes to use his current project, Easy Access, to promote postsecondary equity by matching underrepresented students with schools that fit them socially, academically, and financially. In addition to his dedication to college access, Rocky focuses on design thinking, learner experience design, and UX/UI solutions as Design Lead for two other startups. In the future, Rocky hopes to continue to work for social good by creating innovative solutions to problems of inequity through the design thinking process.
